ing, and not as individuals.

Miss Frazier has served the chapter two years as president, and has pi-loted it through financial channels safely into patriotic harbors and at all imes mindful of the purpose of the organization.

The first Christmas supper for the Confederate veterans was inaugurated in 1916 by this president, and repeated last Christmas. It was her expressed dealre at the meeting that this courtesy be continued.

Personally she reported having written 600 letters and making 1,000 tele-phone calls in the interest of the chapter during the past year.

A series of dances has been given on Saturday evening which have netted the chapter $309, as reported by Mrs. Sam Erwin, chairman. Besides, cafe-teria suppers have been conducted Saturday evenings with Mrs. Belle Spen-cer as chairman.

When the general U. D. C. conven-tion met here last November $1,193 was raised by the city through individ-ual contributions for their entertain-ment. Of this amount $526 was spent for the convention, and by careful man-agement the president was able to turn in a substantial balance.

The entire report showed that the chapter had handled $3,279.96 during the year, and besides giving $50 to an ambulance fund in France, and $75 as an endowment for a hospital bed, there was still a balance in the treasury,

Mrs. John Fouche, chairman of the war relief committee, had on hand the fifth afghan that the members had knitted for the soldiers' beds in France. Two have already been sent overseas and others are ready to send. Two $100 liberty bonds have been bought by the chapter and two French orphans have been adopted at a cost of

FLAG DAY, FRIDAY, WILL BE CELEBRATED HERE

Elks and Patriotic League Plan Demonstrations-Everybody Urged to Fly Flag.

The Elks' club and the League for Patriotic Demonstration will join in the celebration of flag day, Friday, June 14, at the county courthouse, at :30 p.m. Besides this, almost every home and business building will float Old Glory in the breeze.

The program will consist of a formal fine program will consist of a formating fine raising and a tableau representing the making of the first American fing by Betsy Ross, 142 years ago.

Judge S. D. McReynolds. Judge Joe V. Williams and Rev. Claude Hill, pastor of the First Christian church, will deliver orations.

This demonstration is, in the case of the B. P. O. E., part of a nationwide patriotic celebration. More than 2.000 towns and cities in America will hold services in commemoration of the birthday of the American flag. The idea of such a wide celebration origi-nated in the grand lodge of the Elks and was disseminated through that organization.

It is worthy of note that no man may join the order of the Elks without swearing allegiance to the American flag, unless he is already an American

If there be a time in the whole history of this country when the American flag stood for a great spirit, that time is upon the American people. The Stars and Stripes so painstakingly sewed by a colonial girl in far-away Revolutionary times has grown and expanded until now humanity itself looks for protection to the white and crim-son folds of its banner. The celebration at the county courthouse Friday night will not be an American celebration; it will be an international thanksgiv-
